WebOS TV how to switch between TV and Satellite

When watching TV press List on the remote control

The Tv will now be on Satellite, to go back to TV reverse the process.

Changing Source

To change source on the TV press this button on the TV and a row of options will appear at the bottom of the screen.

The actual list will depend on what you have plugged in

The actual options you will see will vary depending on what is currently plugged into the TV sockets

- 1. Home Hub. If you have any items also connected to ThinQ you can see them here.
- 2. Live TV. This is either Aerial channels or satellite depending on what is tuned in and viewed last.
- 3. LG Channels if you accepted extra channels during First time installation you can view them here.
- 4. AV. If you have anything connected to the AV
- 5. Storage if you have a USB or other storage device plugged in it will show here otherwise you will not see this.

If you have things plugged in via HDMI you will see them. You can select what input you want and press OK on your remote to go to that item.

How to download apps from the WebOS App Store (WiFi is required to use apps)

You can quickly jump to Netflix or Prime Video by pressing the appropriate button on your remote control.

These apps require subscriptions to be able to access them, if you are accessing them for the first time you will need to log in or sign up to a subscription.

apps along the bottom of the screen

If you press the Home button on the remote you will see the Home Screen with a row of

You can select any of the apps and press the OK button to enter that app, some apps require a paid subscription to be able to use them. Most apps require a login even if they are free like BBC iPlayer. You will need to login to the following apps for Freeview Play to work properly:

BBC iPlayer, ITV X, More 4, My 5 and UKTV play (now called U).

The first 4 can be found on the apps already installed but UKTV Play (U) you need to get from the app store.

This is the process to find and install it, the same process can be used to install any app you can find in the app store, if you can't find it in the app store it is not available.

On the row of app icons select the apps one:

If you can't see the app you want in our case UKTV play (U) then you need to search for it so select the search at the top of the screen

To remove programs from your list highlight them in the right hand list and click OK for the circle to turn green and then use the left arrow between the two list to remove them.

To edit your list name press the green button on your remote and follow the steps from earlier in the guide for naming your list.

How to move Channels in your Favourite List on the WebOS TV

You can change the order that channels appear in your favourite list as follows

And select Programme Manager

The channels will now be in that order whenever you select that Favourite List, it does not affect other Favourite Lists or the All Channel List.

Recording & Playback

You will need an external storage device such as a USB or an HDD, the recommended size for the USB is 32GB and the HDD should be no more than 2TB.

Please Note you can only record TV programs or satellite programs you can't record from an app or any other external source such as HDMI.

First time installation of External storage

When you first plug in your USB or HDD the TV will ask you what you want to search the device for files, recordings or if it is empty then select Cancel.

Recording the current Program

While watching a TV or Satellite channel press the 3 dots ... button on the remote control. This will bring up a menu on the right of the screen.

Select record from the list. Then the following pop up box will appear.

You can change the duration and it will let you select from 30 minutes upwards in 30 minute intervals or just record to the end of program, once you have selected your duration select done and press the OK button.

If this is the first time recording on this storage device the TV will run a check to ensure the device is suitable for recording to.

Click OK and restart the recording.

A message will appear to say recording has started and if there are more episodes of the same program this message will pop up to ask if you want to record other episodes.

If you want to stop the recording before it reaches the scheduled end then press the OK button on the remote and a button will pop up at the bottom left press OK to stop the recording.

This screen will then pop up and you have several options to save the recording or discard it.

The top option is stop and save the recording to this point.

The second option is do not save, discard the recording.

3rd option is to change when the recording is scheduled to stop

And the last one cancels the stop request and continues recording until the original specified end point.

Playing recorded programs will be covered in a later section as it is the same regardless of how you recorded it.

Scheduling a Timed Recording

If you want to set a program to record in the future you can set the timer to start and stop the recording. To schedule a timed recording press the 3 dots ... button on the remote.

Select TV Scheduler from the list

The TV scheduler will be blank unless you have used it before.

At the top right there are 2 clock icons, 3 vertical dots and a cross.

The clock furthest left is the schedule recording clock.

The next clock is schedule a reminder, this can be used to remind you when a program is about to start so you don't miss it.

The 3 vertical dots is for editing entries in the schedule.

The cross is to exit the scheduler and return to the TV.

Select the clock furthest left to schedule a recording and this pop-up screen will appear.

Select manually schedule a recording, using the guide is explained later.

This pop-up screen can be used to enter the details of your scheduled recording.

If you have more than one storage device connected you can select which one to use, otherwise skip the top row, then set whether you want it to happen more than once so you can select daily or weekly, remember this is manually set so if something changes in the broadcast schedule you might miss the intended program. Then set the date of the recording (first recording if you have set recurring), set the start time and the end time, the programme for example DTV 3 ITV1, if you wish you can manually type in a title for your recording. When you are satisfied with your settings you will be here

Maintenance

Careful and regular cleaning can prolong the life of your TV.

Be sure to Disconnect the mains cable from the mains socket before any cleaning.

- 1. Use a soft dry cloth to wipe away the dust from the screen and surfaces.
- If the surfaces are extremely dirty, clean the TV with a cloth which has been dipped in a weak soapy water. Wring the cloth until it is almost dry, then use it to wipe the TV.
- Ensure there is no excess water on the screen. Allow any water or dampness to evaporate before switching the TV on.

Disposal

This logo on the product means that it is an appliance whose treatment as waste falls within the framework of the European Directive 2012/19/EU on Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment (WEEE), which requires that used household appliances be collected separately in order to optimize the recovery rate and recycling of the materials they contain, and reduce the impact on the environment and human health.

Thus, at the end of the life of this device, it must not be disposed of with unsorted household waste. It must be disposed of in the return and collection systems made available to you by local authorities (waste collection centres) and distributors.

As an end consumer, your role is essential in the reuse, recycling and other forms of recovery cycle of this Electrical and Electronic Equipment.

You are required to use the selective collection systems available to you.
