REPLACING THE EARPADS

To remove the earpads, gently pull them away from the enclosure, until you see the black rubber lip surrounding the earpad peel off the side of the earcup. To fit the earpad back on, place the aforementioned rubber lip of the earpad into the ridge between the earcup and the driver-plate. Start from one side, and slowly make your way all around, by carefully pulling the earpad outwards.

SELF-ADJUSTING HEAD BAND

The 105 Aer doesn't require manual adjustment for the size of the headband. The elastic mechanism inside the headband can stretch to fit any head size without any user input.

SYMMETRICAL HEADPHONES

The 105 Aer headphones are symmetrical. So Left and Right is determined by the L or R marked cable that you are using. Also: the L (left) cable jack has a small tactile ridge to help you identify the left side of the cable without looking.

You tend to crank up the volume to compensate for the noise around you. But our earpads offer a good passive isolation which should allow you to listen to your headphones comfortably even in louder environments such as inside an airplane or subway. This way we hope to contribute to the preservation of your hearing.
